

About Epionce®

Epionce products are researched, developed, produced and distributed by Episciences, Inc. Epionce products are rooted in over two decades of skin research and backed by fifteen clinical studies performed by independent clinical research organizations. Clinical studies are not performed on just one ingredient - the finished, marketed, consumer-ready products are used to document clinical efficacy and safety.

Most skin care products are topical solutions that remain on the skin surface providing no real therapeutic benefit. Our unique delivery mechanism allows a blend of active botanical ingredients to deeply penetrate the skin. This results in a stronger barrier that can help resist the effects of aging and disease while helping to prevent destructive inflammatory factors in the skin.

Epionce leverages years of scientific research to customize the perfect skin care solution to meet any patient/client need. You can customize an Epionce program to produce a specific aesthetic result to improve skin aging or help treat a specific skin condition such as acne or psoriasis. Or, you can customize a solution based on general skin type:

CLEANSE & PREPARE

Epionce CLEANSE & PREPARE products remove skin impurities without disrupting the intercellular lipids and cells that form the natural protective barrier. The cleanse and prepare process is important not only because it removes impurities, but also because it prepares the skin to receive treatments and absorb the active ingredients of leave-on Lytic and Renewal products.
